Agricultural Stabilization & Conservation Service

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, one of the agencies of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, is the agency that deals most directly with farmers and rural people. Its administration is tied to "grass roots" through the ASC Committee System that is composed of farmers. These Committeemen are elected by farmers and are responsive to their needs in carrying out the farm programs passed by the U.S. Congress and signed into law by the President of the United States. The laws that are passed, which the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committees (ASC) administer in their respective counties and communities, are those designed to attain fair incomes for farmers, assure abundance for consumers, and balance prosperity and conservation of soil and water resources on farms for the benefit of the whole nation.

Local farmers serving on the County Committee at the present time are James R. Ford, Jr., Chairman; W. E. Bondurant, Jr., Vice-chairman and B. C. Massey, Regular Member. Assisting the County Committee in administering ASCS programs are community committeemen: Cloverhill- W. D. Hix, III, E. M. Covington and J. H. Rosser; Southside- E. W. Mullins, H. B. Jones and W. D. Hunter, Jr. and Stonewall - J. A. Martin, R. T. Megginson and J. P. Alvis, Jr.

This agency has a long and colorful history. It began back on May 12, 1933 when the Agricultural Adjustment Act, better known as the "Triple-A" Program was signed into law. This originated the first National farm legislation, that since this time, has changed in concept to meet conditions and have been under different names. As an example, in 1947 the agency's name was changed from the Agricultural Adjustment Administraiton (AAA) to the production and Marketing Administration (PMA). This was changed again in 1953 to Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) and in 1962 it was changed to Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) to comply with all agencies being served agencies. The elected committees however still hold the title of ASC Committees.

In all these years, the objectives have always been the same. While the method of program administration may have differed to some extent the results have always been in the form of service to rural Americans. This service has helped provide consumers with a constant and reliable supply of farm products for a smaller proportion of their income than anywhere else in the world, while at the same time assuring the farmer of a specified minimum price for his products.

Youth Sunday At Providence

Youth Sunday will be observed at Providence Baptist Church in Red House on June 13. An annual event, Youth Sunday is the one special day in the year in which the young people assume the various places of responsibility during the Sunday School and Morning Worship hours.

This year, our youth pastor is Johnny Chambers and our Sunday school director is Paul Scott Bennett. The Youth Choir director for the day is Rodney Marston and youth organist and pianists, respectively, are Beth Bennett, Sharon Chambers and Tammy Chambers. The Sunday school treasurer is Robert Clowdis, and the decorations are by Zoey Grishaw. Others involved in Sunday school and the morning worship hour as teachers and ushers are Anita Reynolds, Jimmy Marston, Steve Barksdale, David Mitchell, Susan Marston, Charlene Hamlett, Jim Bennett, Mike Reeves, and Bruce Barksdale. Matthew Petty will read the responsive reading during the morning worship hour.

Our church always enjoys youth Sunday and our young people do too! Why don't you come and enjoy it with us? We would be pleased to have you present in Sunday school at 10 a.m. and morning worship at 11 a.m.

Getting all your adventure from TV?

Instead of getting your excitement from watching the exploits of others, you could be having some of your own.

By driving a tank. Or jumping out on a plane. Or learning to sleep in the rain.

Or by learning a job you never thought you could do. Or doing a job you never thought could be done. Or going places you never thought you would go.

Or simply by putting on a uniform and getting satisfaction from an old-fashioned feeling that you're doing your best in the service of your Country.

Recent rains were a welcome and will surely make things grow.

Orchard grass that will be harvested as hay should be clipped and top dressed with 50 pounds of N. It will help make up for the lost production in the spring cutting.

Are you watching the futures market. Most everyone that I've talked with are amazed that soybeans are well over $6.00 a bushel.

There is still time to get beans planted. Do it before mid-June.

$12 billion sounds like a lot of money and it is - but that's the bill for agricultural pests-weeds, insects, disease, and nematodes.

Beverly Martin says, "You can tell them (tobacco growers) that Orthene is O.K. I used it last week on my tobacco and it cleaned out the insects.

OSHA proposed in the Federal Register on April 27 that any farmer employing 40 or more workers would be required to provide toilet and handwashing facilities within a 5 minute walk. With fewer than 5 employes, the facilities need not be placed in the field, but must be easily accessible by readily available transportation.

Cabbage loopers are a very difficult insect to control with the usual run of insecticides. Try Bacillus Thuringienses - - I see it being sold locally as Dipel.

Last week I attended a Mastitis Roundtable, an excellent presentation of what dairymen will need to do in order to reduce the incidence of this disease. Mastitis probably eliminates more cows from the herd than any other one thing.

Any dairyman can identify a clinical case of mastitis with a strip cup. It's the sub-clinical form that isn't readily identified that means trouble. Beginning June 1, many dairymen will be using the Fossomatic equipment to determine somatic cell count on each cow.

Dry cow therapy will be one of the subjects for this fall and winter dairy seminars. In a "nut shell" this involves scrubbing the teat opening thoroughly and injecting in each quarter dotorming the last milk with "Quartermaster." Dip the teats with a recommended teat dip for five consecutive days following drying off and five days before freshening.

A recent issue of Virginia Dairymen gave a list of effective teat dips.

The hottest item in Agricultural Research is nitrogen fixation. There's a lot of work underway with this idea.

Last week we mentioned some new structures going up. Another one is a set of scales for weighing grain and livestock that Kenneth Marston has erected.
